

A photograph of a Moroccan pottery shop. In the foreground, a white wooden shelf is filled with various colorful ceramic items, including small cups, bowls, and plates with intricate patterns. Behind the shelf, several large, ornate ceramic vessels, such as tagines and vases, are displayed on a higher shelf. The background shows more pottery hanging on the wall and woven baskets on the floor. The overall atmosphere is warm and traditional.

Asilah

THE PEARL OF THE ATLANTIC

What to know:

- You will discover this coastal city in the north of Morocco, characteristic for its beaches and for being the most bohemian city in the country.
- The small place is known for its works of art and paintings. The old part of the city is covered in these paintings.
- The paintings are changed every year, therefore visitors can always have a different experience.

KRIKIA VIEWPOINT

A narrow alleyway in the Asilah Medina. The walls are covered in vibrant, colorful murals and tapestries featuring geometric and architectural patterns. A large, ornate green arched doorway is visible in the background. A person is standing on a ladder, working on the wall art.

ASILAH MEDINA

You will visit Asilah (Unesco Heritage), a clean, well-kept and pleasant coastal city. You will discover the art so characteristic of this place and of course, the medina, together with the typical stalls of local products. You will also enjoy the famous Moroccan tea.

STREET ART

A close-up of a traditional Moroccan mint tea set. It includes a highly ornate silver teapot and two glasses filled with the tea, which has a distinct red and yellow layered appearance. The set is placed on a silver tray.
